

Dear reader,

May I have your attention?

My name is Niels Vrijland and I am an artist.

After graduating from The Hague University of Applied Sciences and studying at the Rotterdam Academy of Architecture and Urban Design, I have worked for several architectural agencies before developing my skills as an independent creator.

I have led renovation projects and have designed and built furniture. Since then I have focussed on painting, photography and web design.

Due to personal health issues I have been out of the running for a while, but now enjoy working again with great enthusiasm.

Focussing primarily on painting and sculpture, I would love to work on new assignments and design projects.

Please feel free to take a look at my portfolio on my website www.vrijland.nl, and contact me with any queries you may have as a result!

Kind regards,

Niels
